Accessibility Twitter Chat
for Global Accessibility Awareness Day
May 19th from 3:00 – 4:00pm ET

In celebration of Global Accessibility Awareness Day, we invite you to join us May 19th from 3:00 - 4:00pm ET for a Twitter Chat at the intersection of accessibility, inclusion, and health. We will dive into some Accessibility 101 and explore how expanding participation in biomedical research can advance health equity. We will also share information about the All of Us Research Program and explore its mission to make health research more inclusive to improve health outcomes.

Check out the questions below to prepare your answers in advance. We look forward to having you with us! #GAADChat

For more information on how to participate in a Twitter Chat, check out our guide here.
