In order to coordinate stakeholder engagement on the bill, Lisa McCorkell (cc'ed), co-founder of the Patient-Led Research Collaborative, has offered to share resources with your organizations over the coming weeks. These resources will include social medial posts that can be shared as well as information about reaching out to Senate offices to ask for cosponsors. Over the next few weeks, I would encourage organizations that are interested to reach out to Senate offices to share information about the bill and ask Senators to cosponsor.

Again, thank you all so much for your support of the bill. We look forward to continued engagement.

Best,

Nimit
